THE STATE CHAIRMANSHIP Meeting of the Republican Committee

Next Tuesday. While there is some little discussion of the prospects of electing a chairman for the Republican state committee at next Tuesday's meeting, there is nothing like the general interest that was displayed in the contest for the chairmanship in January, 1896, and the chances are that the nittee will not be disturbed by the interests of various ambitious men, but left | Council provide for asphalt roadways on free to make a calm selection of whatever man is, in its judgment, most competent to take up the work and hold the party machinery together as a compact and harmonious organization devoted to the interests of the whole party. The lines of division that marked the contest upon the eve of the last campaign have entirely disappeared and what little rivairy there is is between the supporters of two members of the committee-Messrs. McCulloch and Self-who stood shoulder to shoulder upon all questions arising at that time. The nature of the contest cannot be very intense, for neither side knows with anything like positiveness where it is going to get a vote and the feeling of members of the committee toward the men mentioned is such that with either out of the way the other would be given the unanimous

Mr. McCulloch and Organized Labor. To the Editor of the Indianapolis Journal: Inasmuch as certain politicians seem to be determined to involve organized labor in the contest for the Republican chairmanship, it seems that a full and dispassionate statement of the facts as to the record and street. present attitude toward brganized labor of each of the several aspirants is in order. Therefore I submit a statement of the facts as to the Muncie aspirant. It is true that for several years a large manufacturing plant has been operated at Muncie by a corporation called Whitely Malleable Castings Company, and that in this factory organized labor always has been proscribed and "scab" labor only has been employed. The shop employs about four hundred men. At a conspicuous place on its premises this company always has displayed a large sign bearing in large letters this inscrip-

"Independent Shop - No Person will be Employed who is a Member of the Knights of Labor or any Trades Union, Open to Independent Workmen Only. The rule announced in this inscription always has been rigorously enforced by this company, and with labor-union people this shop has become to be a very odious and a very notorious "scab" shop. It is also true that Hon. George F. Mc Culloch is and all the time has been a stockholder and director and the vice prestdent of this corporation. But it is also true that he is only one of the five directors and that he never has held a majority of the stock, and that he never has been personally in actual control of the shop, and that he employs organized labor in other The foregoing is a full and fair statement of all the facts as to one asptrant. It is not the purpose of this article to discuss attitude. The members of the state committee are amply able to determine for themselves whether or not there is in all this offense to organized labor and whether or not any advantage can accrue to the Democracy from the elevation by the Republican party to its most conspicuous position of such an aspirant.

MUST GET BETTER PLANS

COUNCIL WILL NOT VOTE 875,000 FOR SCHERRER'S STATION HOUSE.

Park Board Also Rebuked for Its Charter Ignorance by the Council-Finance Committee.

The Council finance committee has determined to take a hand in securing a good station house in return for the $75,000 the Board of Public Works asks for that purpose, and the money will not be appropriated until the board adopts plans that are regarded by the Council as being what they Her Clothing Caught Fire While She should. The Journal a day or two ago called attention to the fact that the Board of Health was greatly dissatisfied with the arrangements that were proposed by the Works Board for the City Dispensary in connection with the police station, and published a rather spicy communication from the health department on the subject. At the meeting of the finance committee last night the ordinance authorizing the issuance of $150,000 of bonds to pay for the station house and grounds was held up, and Mr. Walcott, chairman of the committee, announced that the expenditure would not be authorized until the board adopts more suitable plans. Several members of the committee said that the right kind of a building must be put up, even if it takes by heavy shoes. more money.

The committee also administered a mild rebuke to the Board of Park Commission-It is used with dry plates and makes good ers, which sent a communication to the Council at its special meeting last Monday night asking that $5,000 be transferred from the labor fund to a new fund to be known as the "emergency fund." The only action taken on this request last night was to recommend that the Council send it back to the park commissioners with the infermation that it would not be acted on until it had followed the usual course, and was accompanied by a communication from Controller Johnson recommending the transfer. There are two or three members | ined. In an hour death came to the relief of the committee who have said that the of the little sufferer. The child never spoke park commissioners should take the trouble to study the charter before assuming that they are a little city administration unto Nothing was done with the brewers' license ordinance. It will be held over unti the city attorney can be consulted. The committee agreed on reports favoring the appropriation of $5,900 to pay outstanding claims against Brightwood, Mount Jackson and West Indianapolis; $1,358 for equipping the kitchen and paying the salary of the night engineer of the City Hospital, transferring $300 from the natural to the artificial gas fund and $400 to the mis-ceilaneous fund of the hospital. An ad-verse report was made on the petition of J. Dobson for the refunding of $500, the amount of a certified check he forfeited to the city by his failure to make good a sprinkling bid. The committee found that during the last administration he had made a similar failure. At that time the money was refunded to him.

The committee also decided against disannexing farm land that was included in the annexation of Brightwood. W. W. Spencer appeared for a number of property owners, who asked that their property be disannexed, as it is unplatted farm land. Mr. Spencer said that 225 acres of land was taken in that should have been omitted. Part of it lies north and the balance south of Clifford avenue, near the Belt Railroad. On it are two dairies and a brickyard, all of which will have to be abandoned. He said the tax levy would be about 32 cents higher, which would mean quite a good deal the small farmers. It was pointed out to him that the boundaries had been fixed in order to include taxable property of the Belt Railroad to the amount of $50,000. Christian Warrick and Christian Potters also urged disannexation. The latter lives in the only house in a seventy-five-acre field. He said that he could not raise corn on his place to pay taxes, and that the only thing he could do would be to sell out. This he would find impossible at present, as no one wants town lots that far away, and the land will be fit for nothing else if it is kept within the city. Mr. Potters only owns twenty-six acres of the land he ocupies. Most of the tracts only contain eight or ten acres. Mr. Warrick made the same sort of a protest as Mr. Potters. After considering the subject the committee decided not to interfere. It is said if this tract was disannexed, like demands would be made by others. After a meeting of the committee on franchises and contracts, Chairman Colter announced that the committee had decided to recommend the confirmation of the contract made by the Board of Public Works with the Indianapolis Desiccating Company, providing for the removal of its plant from the end of Kentucky avenue to Sellers farm. It extends the contract of the company until 1907, in consideration of which a new plant for the consumption of garbage

Another Batch of Resolutions Sent to the Council. The Board of Public Works has started on an aggressive campaign of public improvement this year and is not disposed to allow the wishes of resident property owners to interfere with its plans. Another batch of improvement resolutions were sent to the Council yesterday with the expectation that they will be indorsed by that body, although more than half of the property owners object. The papers sent to the Russell avenue, from Merrill to Meridian street, and on Illinois street, from Russell evenue to McCarty street. City Engineer Jeup reported that less than half of the resident property owners signed the remonstrance against the improvement of Park avenue from St. Clair street to Seventeenth and against graveling the first alley west of Alabama street Twenty-second to Twenty-third from street. The board will have these improvements made, and advertisements for sealed proposals were ordered yesterday. The most important of several new resolutions adopted was one for cement walks on Fletcher avenue from Noble to Grove street. Quite a number of petitions were filed for improvements. They were all referred to the city engineer for investigation. One asks that the board order cement walks on Alabania street from Sixteenth to Nineteenth street. Other petitioners want the walks of Central avenue (old Fort Wayne avenue) cemented from Pennsylvania street to St. Mary.

A Painter Attempts Suicide. George Henry, a carriage painter of this city, made an unsuccessful attempt to end his life in Cincinnati Thursday evening. Henry is thirty-nine years of age and has wife and child in this city. It is said he drew $3,800 out of the bank in March leaving his family penniless. He arrived in Cincinnati from Bowling Green, Ky., with political effect of such a record and a few cents in his pocket and while taking a glass of wine in a saloon poured poison into the liquor. Before he could drink the potion the saloon keeper took it from him and called a policeman. Henry was then

GIRL BURNED TO DEATH

MARGARET BELL, OF SOUTH EAST STREET, DIES IN GREAT AGONY.

Was Playing with Matches-A Very Distressing Case.

Margaret Bell, the twelve-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Bell, of No. 816 South East street, was burned to death at her home yesterday morning. Between 11 and 12 o'clock James Steeb, who lives across the street, heard the agonized cries of the girl and ran across to find her standing on the porch with her clothing on fire. He smothered out the fire, out not until the girl was literally roasted alive. Every portion of her body was burned, with the exception of the feet, which were protected

Mrs. Bell, it seems, went away on some slight errand and left the child alone in the house. It is not known how the girl happened to get afire, but it is believed that she played with matches, for there was no open fire in the house from which she might accidentally ignite her dress. When the mother returned she noticed Mr. Steek and several neighbors fighting a fire which had communicated to the porch. In a mo ment she also noticed the blackened form lying on the floor of the porch. It was her daughter, and it was discovered that life was not yet extinct. Tenderly the charred body was picked up and carried into the house. It resembled a huge cinder, and there was just enough life in the body to make the scene as pitiful as could be imagto tell how she met her death. Coroner Brayton examined the remains and found the facts as given here.

PARK BOARD MAY CUT OUT MANY SMALL TRACTS CONSIDERED.

Also Expects to Pay a Fee to Smith & Korbly, Whom It Had No Right to Employ.

At the meeting of the Board of Park Commissioners yesterday afternoon, what disposition should be made of the written opinion prepared for the board by Smith & Korbly, special attorneys, with reference to its ability to make expenditures of money proved something of a puzzle. After the meeting last week, at which the mayor insisted that their services should be dispensed with, Messrs. Smith and Korbly were summoned to the office of the board, Mr. Korbly appeared, bearing the opinion. After his firm was discharged from further service he handed the opinion to the board, remarking that the "board had asked for it, and here it is." The board construes this as meaning that the firm will demand a fee. It was not read at that time.

Yesterday Colonel Perry said that out of courtesy to the attorneys he thought the minutes ought to show that it had been to submit an ingenious construction of it, follows: showing that the board had a good deal of discretionary power. As they read the law, it was the duty of the Council last fall to create a general park fund which would be subject to the use of the board without going to the Council every time it wanted to build a $4,500 dam or spend money for some such trifle. The attorneys doubted whether the Council had the right to make specific appropriations, but admitted that under Section 54 City Controller Johnson had to keep separate funds and was required to see that warrants should not be drawn against them except for the purposes for which they were appropriated. As this was true, the only remedy for the board would be to apply to the Council to pass an ordinance in rectification of the error it made last fall in not creating a general park fund. The board recognized that the opinion nil so far as it is concerned and ordered it The minutes of the previous meeting show that it was ordered. Those of yesterday will show it was accepted after its preparation, so that the board is responsible to the attorneys for their pay. On that subject the Council, which has to appropriate, and the controller, who has to recommend the appropriation of the money to pay it, will have something to say. Andrew Steffen appeared before board with plats of a five-acre lot he desires to get rid of at the rate of $3,000 an acre, or $15,000 for the entire piece. It is a quarter of a mile this side of the Belt and last year, Mr. Steffen said, John T. Brush offered him $13,000 for it for a ball park. This statement was made unwittingly, Mr. Steffen not recognizing reporters who were present. He had declined that offer. The ground lies just off Washington street at the corner of Eric. He thought the price was not unreasonable. No reply was made to his offer. It will not be accepted, as there are no trees on it. The members of the board who were present-Messrs. Perry, Lieber and English -reported their progress toward securing terms on the small tracts. One thing was plain as a result of their efforts. It is that people uniformly hold their land at double the price fixed by the assessors. Mr. Miller, who owns the East Ohio-street property, holds it at $30,000; appraisement, $15,-000. He says it cost him $25,000 and there was once a mortgage for $22,000 on it, but that was a long time ago. Mr. Lieber found that Mr. Ballweg wants $5,500 for the Ray-street site, claiming that he pays a tax on $3,700. It is appraised at $1,800. Mr. English declared that when the owners ask two prices he is in favor of cutting them out. He seemed very much determined that the board should not be sandbagged into paying exorbitant prices for these three small tracts. Arthur Jordan is insisting that the plat his company made of lands in the proposed park system be approved by the Board of Works. The Board of Works received a letter from the park board yesterday asking it to refuse to approve the plat. The city attorney has been asked for an opinion as to whether it must approve the plat as the company demands under Section 59 of

COMMISSIONERS INVESTIGATING THE NUMEROUS COMPLAINTS.

Supt. Goss's Report Shows Increase in Cases-Girl Whipped Till the Blood Flowed.

School Commissioner Hendrickson sprung something of a sensation at the meeting of the School Board last night. During a heated argument on the question of corporal punishment the commissioner made some serious charges without making public the names of those involved. The commissioner's remarks were provoked by the report of School Superintendent Goss, showing an increase in the number of cases of corporal punishment for the month of March.

Mr. Hendrickson plunged into the question at once and declared that it was time for the board to act in this matter. He said that numerous complaints had come to him of excessive punishment inflicted, and he did not believe the board could afford to overlook these complaints. "I know of one case in particular," the commissioner said, "where a child-a little girlwas whipped in one of the city schools until the blood ran into her shoes. It is not the fault of the teacher so much as it is the fault of the system we have in these schools. I insist that this board shall investigate these charges."

Commissioner Roth made the statement that the charges of Mr. Hendrickson were true and said they were now being investigated by the committee on teachers and salaries. Mr. Hendrickson said he was satisfied to let the matter rest with this committee, but urged the members to make a thorough investigation. The commissioner would not give the name of the child that had been abused.

The question of a branch library for the suburb of Brightwood came up for a long discussion and was finally referred to the ibrary committee. President Scott said the Brightwood citizens were anxious to have to consider the question. Commissioners Russe and Roth were strongly arrayed against the plan. The former thought there was "something worse needed than branch libraries." Mr. Roth laughed at the idea of branch libraries. "This thing has got to be a fad," he de clared with a sneer, "nothing but a fad. I understand North Indianapolis wants a branch library. She's getting pretty rapid, it seems to me. North Indianapolis has already cost us $40,000. Until this town gets to be a bigger city than it is we don't need branch libraries. Indianapolis is nothing but a great big village, and that's all you can make out of it." The president, treasurer and secretary of the board, constituting a committee to receive the books and accounts of the suburban schools recently taken into the city, reported their work complete as to Brightwood and Mount Jackson. The committee asked for more time in which to examine the books of the West Indianapolis schools.

The city will receive $1,484.43 from Brightwood and $410.83 from Mount Jackson. The committee on buildings and grounds was granted further time to consider the proposed addition to school building No. 38 and the building of a new schoolhouse on the South Side. The committee recommends that the making of plat books be postponed. This committee was in favor of naming the High School in honor of Pro-fessor Shortridge, but did not deem it wise to name all the schools at this time. The board appointed Miss Adelaide Birch to the position of teacher in the city schools, subject to assignment by the su-

TOO COLD TO PLAY.

Another Preliminary Ball Game Declared Off.

The cold blasts that swept across the ball park yesterday spoiled the sport, for not enough people went out to make a showing. There was no game, the players of both teams doing a little practice, and that was all. Bobby Gilkes and his Toledo players are quite a likely looking lot, and though they got together for the first time yesterday, should be able to give Indianapolis as good or better a tussle than did Dayton. Both these teams are in the Interstate

This afternoon, if the weather permits, there will be a game. If it continues cold and windy, as yesterday, the two teams are not likely to get together, as it does not pay to take chances on crippling a good player. Kellum and Wolters are slated to pitch for Indianapolis, while Keenan and Ferguson will do Toledo's box work, with Arthur to catch them. Next Monday and Tuesday Anson and his Chicago Colts will go against Indianapolis here, and then there will be sport. The "old man" has had his team playing for weeks, and all the Colts are in fine fettle.

RAILROAD STRIKE CASES

JUDGE M'CRAY QUASHES INDICT-MENTS AGAINST F. G. DARLINGTON.

Held that Strikers' Action Was an Invasion of Property Rights-The Prosecutor Excepts.

Judge McCray, of the Criminal Court, yesterday sustained a motion to quash the indictments against Superintendent Frank G. Darlington, of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, which have been a matter of record in the court since the close of the American Railway Union strike in 1894. Superintendent Darlington was charged with unlawfully discharging employes and preventing discharged men from securing employment.

Judge McCray took the ground that the action of the strikers was a menace to the company and an invasion of property rights. The state's attorneys took exception to the court's ruling and were given sixty days to file the proper papers.
